BROOKS OPTIMISTIC OVER PROSPECTS OF STATE BANK OPENING

About Three-fourths of De-positors Have Signed
Waivers

J. Ernest Brooks, president of the State Bank of Antioch, which has been closed since the bank moratorium went into effect, expressed optimism this morning over prospects of the bank opening in the near future. Around 75 per cent of the depositors have signed waivers of 50 per cent of their deposits, according to Mr. Brooks.

The plan for re-opening the bank, approved by State Auditor Barrett, requires a one-third assessment on the stockholders totaling $25,000, a reduction of the capital stock from $75,000 to $50,000 by charging off the capital the $25,000 for bank building and fixtures, and a 50 per cent waiver of deposits by all depositors.

A continual drive is being made according to Mr. Brooks to get the waivers signed and returned. Waivers have been coming in daily, he states.

The balance of deposits not included in the waivers will be released at once, according to provisions for the opening. Attorney William R. Behanna of Waukegan has been retained to handle the legal affairs of the opening. William Ziegler is cashier of the bank.

NEW SCHOOL MAY REPLACE CENTURY OLD BUILDING

Special Election in Emmons
District to be Held Saturday

Two propositions will be presented to voters in District No. 33, known as the Emmons school, at a special election to be held Saturday. The first proposition is to authorize the board of directors to build a new school house on the site of the old building at the northeasterly corner of Route 59 and Beach Grove road, and the second proposal is to authorize the issuance of $6,500.00 bonds to finance the construction.

Records will disclose that the old building is nearly a hundred years old, according to old residents. It has been repaired many times but the age of the building makes further repairs expensive and unsatisfactory. The increasing number of pupils is also one of the factors that prompts the action to secure a more modern building.

Ed Dressel is president of the board of directors, Thomas E. Hanson, clerk, and Peter Toft, director.

TRUSTEES PASS BEER ORDINANCE; SET $3 AS VEHICLE LICENSE

Simonson Reappointed as Marshal at Salary of $115—Cut of $35

After passing the beer ordinance which closely restricts and regulates the sale of beer in the village, and adopting a three dollar vehicle tax for this year, the board of trustees Tuesday night, at the end of three recessed sessions, adjourned the regular May meeting.

The vehicle license, which has met with varying action at the past three meetings, was definitely set at three dollars Tuesday night, a cut of two dollars from the old fee of $5. The license fee was reduced last year, for the period of one year to $4. Decision to do away with the fee this year entirely, was made last week at a meeting, but considerable criticism because of the decrease which would be caused in street maintenance funds, evidently led to a reconsideration.

The motion to make the vehicle license fee $3 this year was made by Lux and Sibley, the trustees who previously made the motion for the abolishment of the fee during the ensuing year.

Vos Opposes Ordinance
Adoption of the beer ordinance was made after close to twenty hours spent in deliberation and discussion at official and committee meetings of the board since the first of the month. Fees set by the ordinance, which is published in full on page three, range from $25 to $200. Adoption of the ordinance was opposed by Trustee H. J. Vos, who voted against its adoption.

Beer dealers, according to the license, are divided into classes, as follows:

Class A—Merchants selling at retail in case lots of 24 pints or larger quantities. $25.
Class B—Merchants selling at retail, not for consumption on premises, in less than case lots—$50.
Class C—Jobbers—$25.
Class D—Dealers selling beer for consumption on premises. This class is not barred from selling bottled beer, beer not to be consumed on the premises, and in case lots. $200.
Class E—Dealers selling bottled beer to be consumed on the premises. These dealers cannot sell draught beer, or beer to be taken out—$50.
Class F—Lodges, fraternal organizations, and clubs selling beer in the clubrooms to members and for consumption on the premises only—$25.

Provisions are included in the ordinance regulating the sanitary conditions of beer dispensaries, their location, conduct, operation and closing time. Beer distributors are forbidden to operate within 100 feet of a church, except in the case of a hotel, already established which shall sell beer in conjunction with its dining room.

Highlights of the ordinance are as follows:
Dealers are forbidden to sell to minors without parents' consent.
No dealers will be allowed to operate in the residential section.

Gambling on the premises of a dealer is forbidden.
Dealer must see that intoxicated persons are conducted to their homes or turned over to village marshal.

Sale of beer forbidden from twelve o'clock Saturday night to one o'clock Sunday afternoon.

CONSIDERING THE MARKET PROPOSAL

The proposal to establish a farm market here, initiated by G. A. Whitmore, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, was attacked recently not from the point of view of expense or its feasibility, but from the angle of its appeal to the farmer.

The market under consideration would be an unexcelled medium of contacting the farmer with the consumer of green, dairy and poultry produce. The market would necessitate at the first a rough type of building, divided into stalls, or a wooden platform with a canvas top. Money for the upkeep and maintenance of the business would be derived from small rentals charged the farmer for the use of the stall where he would exhibit his produce. Mr. Whitmore has named a sum of fifteen or twenty cents as being the daily charge for stalls in some markets.

Because of its position in the resort region, Antioch is considered by backers of the market to be an ideal location for this type of civic project. This trade area includes a large summer population which will welcome the opportunity to obtain fresh vegetables, eggs, poultry, fruit and even milk, from the farmer in a well located place of business where the customer can shop from stall to stall for his purchases. Assuming that the advantage to the consumer is indisputable, consider the merchant's side of the matter.

The merchant on first thought, seems the only interested party who stands to lose from a market. His customers, who, in the past, have been in the habit of buying their farm produce through him, will naturally, in a large number of cases, be attracted to the village market where they will have a wide choice from which to make their selections. However, according to reports of the Commerce committee, investigating the case of the municipal market, local merchants favor the project, and it is favored by merchants in towns where there is a market actually in operation.

The reason on second thought, it is obvious. The market has every possibility of increasing the trade of the local merchant, through enlarging the trade area, attracting farmers who may not habitually trade here and of creating an additional source of money for the farmer, which will increase his buying power, in turn benefitting the village as a whole.

The objection raised to the market proposal was not directed against the expense of establishing the project, nor the trade it will take from the local merchant, but that it will be a failure because of the lack of interest of the farmer.

This is not a truck gardening section; the farmer does not in every case cultivate a garden which will meet the demands of his own table. Given the proper incentive, an interest in truck farming may be developed among the farmers.

The desirability of diversified farming has been urged by farm leaders for several years. Sidelines on the farm, such as poultry and truck gardening, have proved helpful to the farmer in the same way that the roadside service station has found soft drinks and cigarettes a profitable addition to that business.

We have been increasingly agitated during the past few years by the farm problem. That the problem does exist cannot be denied. Nevertheless, the farmer who neglects to raise a greater part of his foodstuffs, is failing himself more than he is slighted by his congressional representatives. A step further on than meeting his own demands in garden produce, a step requiring more time, more labor, a slightly larger investment, is truck gardening, raising vegetables and fruits for marketing. There has never been a greater demand for fresh vegetables, fresh fruits, than there is at the present time when food faddists, physicians, magazine and newspaper propagandists, have united to emphasize repeatedly the value of these foods.

A GREAT VICTORY

Farmers who have followed closely the long fight for equality for agriculture which began in 1921 will have to pinch themselves to be sure they are awake. The new emergency farm act is the most far-reaching piece of farm legislation ever enacted in this or any other country. Under competent administration it will close the gap between farm and industrial prices which has vexed agriculture for so many years. It will solve most of the foreclosure troubles which have created so much suffering and violence, and will enable many farmers to redeem farms that have been foreclosed. In connection with the intermediate credit bill, closed. In connection with the intermediate credit bill, soon to be passed, it will take care of operating capital requirements which many country banks can no longer supply. Its inflationary provisions, properly used, will restore the normal relationship between debts and the general price level, and give stability to that price level.

Farmers have reason to celebrate. They have reason to face the future with new hope and courage. They have reason to be thankful for the earnest leaders who have worked so hard to bring about this result.

That being said, a word of caution is in order. Do not expect the impossible. The task of administering the farm bill is complicated and difficult. It will take time for the new credit machinery to be put into operation. After waiting for so long, we must be patient for the time that will be required before the new legislation can become fully effective.

That legislation will be sympathetically and energetically administered. With Henry Wallace at the head of farm credit, we may be sure that farmers will get the full benefit of these measures as speedily as possible. —The Prairie Farmer.

Wilmot Water Level Floods Fields and Equals 1925 Record

Primary Teacher for 14 Yrs. Given Farewell Party by Parents

Fox River Floods

The heavy rainfall of the past few weeks brought the river waters up to flood levels of 1925 and did much harm to fields adjoining the flooded areas where crops had been planted or farmers were waiting to cultivate the ground. The water did not reach previous marks of 1905 fortunately. Water seeped into many of the basements in the village and is still over the Trevor road at Valmar for about a block. The water level has been sinking rapidly since the first of the week and the fishermen have come into their own. Carp are very plentiful and men have speared them in the sloughs by the wagon load. A few game fish are being caught by hook and line.

The pupils of the Primary grades under Miss Olive Hope gave a Parents' Day program Thursday evening at the M. E. Church. The Parents turned the affair into a farewell for Miss Hope who has taught the Wilmot Primary grades for the past four years, and is retiring at the close of this school term.

A musical program consisting of a number by the pupils: "An Old Fashioned Garden," accompanied by Miss Hope as soloist and Miss Gladys Buff-Hope as accompanist, opened the evening's entertainment. Miss Hope led community singing; Miss Virginia Rowe, principal of the Wilmot grades, gave a reading; a duet by Miss Hope and Miss Buffon and a solo by Mrs. Kenneth Foster, completed the musical program.

O. L. Trenary, of Kenosha, was the speaker of the evening. He divided his talk into four parts, addressing the children; the teaching profession from his viewpoint; a eulogy of the work accomplished by Miss Hope and her ability in her chosen profession and closed with a tribute to the Dads and Mothers.

Four little girls, Geraldine Higgins, Agnes Nett, Joyce Newell and Mary Blood, presented Miss Hope with a huge bouquet of flowers, a Nutting picture and two toned blanket, the gifts of the school pupils and outside friends. Faithfully Upholding Our Community

WE HAVE all passed through a long and trying period, during which this bank has remained faithful to its original tradition of conservatism, a tradition that has upheld our community, that has gained for this bank the feeling of security that all depositors must have in the bank of their choice. We intend to go on this way as long as this banking institution is sustained by the people of Antioch, who, in turn, we are anxious to satisfy. Come in to-day.

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future. Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

A lovely waltz number, called "Dreams" was introduced by Gene Cook's orchestra at the dance given by the Fellowship of Trinity Church at Barker Hall, Tuesday night. The music was written by Mrs. Leo Tarnow, 221 North Ashland avenue. The crowd received it with enthusiastic praise. This is the first composition which Mrs. Tarnow has written. Mr. and Mrs. Tarnow and family resided in Antioch in 1927 while Mr. Tarnow was superintendent for the L. E. Meyers Co., when gas lines were laid in the Lake region. During their residence here Mrs. Tarnow became quite well known in musical circles and she gave unreservedly of her time and talents at many community functions.

A Calendar of Chick Management

Second to Sixth Week Full of Dangers

The second week starts the chick on its way. You will want to watch chicks closely and give them extra attention daily. According to the Educational Division of Purina Mills, there is no more critical period in the chick's life than these first weeks. They recommend after the first seven days the following calendar of care:

7th to 14th day—

Maintain steady temperature, with sufficient ventilation all during growing period, but carefully guard against drafts. Adjust brooder temperature gradually downward to 55 degrees by the 14th day.

As chicks learn where heat is, move guards back.

8th to 14th weeks—

Start chicks roosting at 3 weeks; let roosts lie flat near floor for several days; later raise near ends of perches about 6 inches and place poultry netting underneath so chicks cannot get through, behind or under roosts; week later raise rear ends 10 inches; in another week raise front so roost is level and about 15 inches from floor. Reduce brooder temperature gradually.

4th week to maturity—

Increase hopper space to 2 inches per bird. Provide more watering vessels.

CHOOSING FOODS WISELY

By ADELAIDE SPOHN, Ph. D.
Nutritionist of the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial Fund and Director of Nutrition Service, Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

How to Plan Your Own Menu

Although it is true that poorly balanced meals are all too prevalent in our diet, actually there are no deep, intricate secrets for preparing well balanced ones. The "rules" for it are not much more complicated than for contract bridge, though they are much less rigid and leave more room for imagination. For your convenience in planning your own meals, I will give you a few simple, general principles as a guide to the planning of appetizing, healthful meals that are at the same time economical.

First, there are three classes of foods that are essential to health which should be included in each day's diet. These are: milk, vegetables and fruits. Everyone ought to have a quart of milk a day if possible; two vegetables and two fruits. One of the fruits might well be oranges or tomatoes, and one of the vegetables of the green leafy variety, such as lettuce, cabbage, chard, kale, spinach, turnip tops, beet tops, dandelion greens, romaine, water cress and Brussels sprouts.

Why do nutritionists say that these foods are indispensable to health? There are excellent reasons in each case. Milk is known as the most nearly perfect food because it contains most of the dietary essentials necessary to the maintenance of health—namely the vitamins, minerals, carbohydrates, proteins and fats. It is recognized as the one food for which there is no effective substitute.

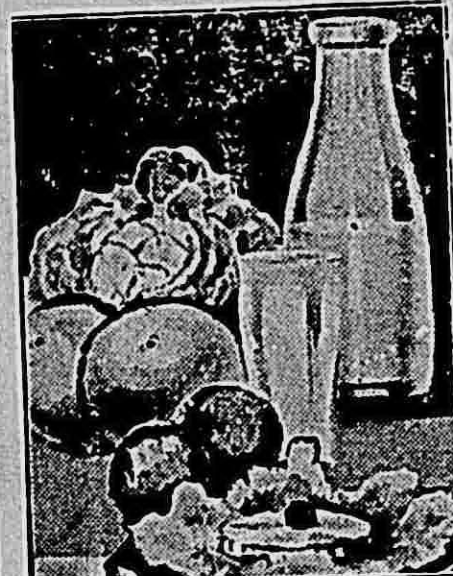

Fruits supply necessary minerals, especially calcium, phosphorus and iron, and by supplying water and roughage keep the intestinal action normal. The citrus fruits, oranges, lemons and grapefruit contain vitamin C in generous amounts. Dried fruits furnish iron. Leafy vegetables are rich in vitamin A and in minerals. Raw carrots, lettuce, tomatoes, raw or canned, and spinach furnish vitamin A. Cabbage, carrots, lettuce and tomatoes contain a great deal of vitamin A, as do raw onions and sauerkraut. C. as do raw onions and sauerkraut.

I am frequently asked to suggest ways to use milk in cooking so that the various members of the family will be sure to get the necessary quart daily. It seems to me harder not to use milk than to use it, because so many dishes demand it. Cereals taste best when cooked in milk; creamed eggs, cream soup, mashed potatoes, creamed vegetables, puddings and custards all require it.

Here are some attractive recipes using milk:

Spinach Soup.

Wash one pound of spinach carefully; cook it in a large kettle with a tightly fitting lid for ten minutes, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. Take two cups of this cooking spinach and cut finely with two knives. Make a thin, cream sauce by melting 4 tablespoons of butter, 4 tablespoons of flour, 2 teaspoons of salt, 1/2 teaspoon of pepper and 4 cups of milk. Let this cook slowly for at least ten minutes. Then add the 2 cups of cut spinach and liquid. Sprinkle the top with chopped parsley. This recipe serves 8 people at the approximate cost of 3 1/2 cents per serving.

Eggs a La Goldenrod.

Hard cook 3 eggs (put eggs into boiling water and keep hot but not boiling for 20 minutes). Remove shells and cut into halves lengthwise; cut each half into four lengthwise strips. Pour a hot medium cream sauce (1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter and 1/2 teaspoon salt over pieces of toast. Arrange the egg whites on this and over all sprinkle the egg yolks which have been pressed through a sieve.

Prune Whip With Custard Sauce.

6 heaping tbsp. 1/4 tsp. sugar
6 prunes (ground) Pinch of salt
3 egg whites 1/4 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. salt

Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in the prunes and other ingredients. Serve cold with soft custard prepared as follows:

1 point milk 1/4 tsp. vanilla
2 egg yolks 1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup sugar

Scald the milk. Beat eggs slightly and add sugar and salt. Gradually add hot milk to the egg mixture, stirring constantly. Cook in a double boiler until the mixture thickens and quits a spoon. Chill.

The important thing in planning your menus is to choose the foods that promote health and by ingenuity prepare the various dishes in interesting ways so as to appeal to the appetite.

ANTIOCH ACES START SEASON WITH 7 TO 4 VICTORY OVER HARVARD

Brilliant pitching by Down and timely hitting by his teammates Sunday brought a 7 to 4 victory to the Antioch Aces over the Harvard Bonus in an interesting contest on the latter's grounds.

Recluse Kills Self at Fox River Home

Schoeben, Resident for Many Years, Ends Life
with Gun. Buried Tues.

Leonard (Shorty) Schoeben, 55 year old summer resident on Fox River, in a fit of despondency over domestic difficulties and illness, shot and killed himself, Sunday morning. Funeral services were held at St. Peter's Church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment was held at St. Boniface Cemetery, Chicago.

Mr. Schoeben, a resident of Fox River during the summer months for the past ten years, and previous to that time a resident on Grass Lake, was divorced and is survived by three sisters. He was known to be moody at times. During the winter he lived in Chicago with a brother-in-law, C. W. Paszek.

The suicide occurred in the Paszek cottage. Schoeben was found lying across his bed, a bullet wound in his right temple, at eleven o'clock Sunday morning, when his brother-in-law and family drove out to spend the day as was their custom.

A verdict of suicide while temporarily insane was given at the inquest held at the Strang Funeral Parlors. Schoeben left no children. The deceased was known to be more or less of a recluse. For the past two years he had suffered from heart trouble. The cottage was located about five miles from Antioch.

Over 25 years ago Schoeben steered a house boat up on the flats at the mouth of the Fox River where it empties into Grass Lake and anchored on the rice covered banks. During the winters he hauled in gravel and made land around the boat. Gradually several rooms were added and he called his resort in the heart of the famous Grass Lake Lotus beds "Roxana." Thousands of visitors stopped there yearly especially during the lotus season and duck hunting season. Several years back he disposed of these holdings and spent most of his time at the cottage near the red bridge.

At the meeting Monday evening we played a knot game. Each patrol stood in a column. The one in the back of each line had a rope. When the signal "go" was called, she tied a square knot, untied it, and handed the rope to the next person. This was repeated down to the leader. She tied sheepshank, ran to the last in line. This girl raised her hand and called the name of her patrol. White Bear patrol won in this.

After our game we arranged the tableaux for our final meeting which will be held May 31st.

The standing of the patrols in the contest are: Lion, Bluebird, and White Bear tied, with Nightingale two points behind.

Plans for Lessening Summer Ironing Suggested for Burdened Housewife

Few housewives, no matter how skilled at the task, take pleasure in the weekly ironing. There are women who profess that cooking fascinates them; others can be happily occupied in sewing, cleaning, washing and planning household finances or daily routines, but few women ever express any enthusiasm over wielding an iron.

Ironing is a tiresome task at best, especially for the woman who has a large family or small children. Where the washing is always large, it means that the ironer must be on her feet for hours, warm, weary, and unable to pertinently slip over some garments without marring the effect of her workmanship.

Ironing in the summer becomes a more wearisome task than ever before, because it is warm work, and in most families there is more of it at that time. But the task, with planning, can be lessened, made less irksome, and less exacting.

Most women who have had years of experience in housekeeping have a number of ironing saving schemes which they put into practice as soon as summer takes hold. Some women take precautions against a large summer ironing even before summer has advanced, and start putting their schemes into practice when they plan the children's summer wardrobe.

Children's Clothes

Planning the children's summer clothes with an eye to the ironing basket, is not at all difficult. Every housewife will find she has her own ideas along this line. Choosing materials for the children's sleeping and undergarments, which will not necessitate ironing, is the first step. Rayon garments are the most obvious suggestion along this line. They are inexpensive, wonderfully easy to launder, and if shaken out when they're hung on the line, they will not require ironing before they are worn.

The cotton crepe materials, including a light weave seersucker, will also make very satisfactory undergarments and pajamas for summer wear, and will be the best ally for the woman who makes these clothes herself. Linens, fine muslins, voiles, and similar goods, while attractive, require too much care in ironing to be considered by the busy woman who wants to save time during the summer.

Play suits, which includes everything from overalls to shorts and bloomer suits, are another ironing saver. Children from three to twelve years, should be allowed to spend a considerable amount of their time during the summer in this type of clothes, for they are more free in it than in their best clothes. Keeping the children clothed in these dark colored suits several mornings in the week will save the trouble of ironing two or three of their light colored garments every week.

Girls' clothes, more than boys' perhaps, lend themselves to plans for saving ironing. In buying your daughter's summer clothes, inquire for dresses made of the new rayons and other novelty cottons which do not require ironing. If you make her clothes yourself, so much the better, for you can find these materials with no trouble in dress good sections.

Easily Ironed Materials

Eyelet batistes, while requiring ironing, require very little. Linens, on the other hand, require careful ironing and if the dress is worn twice, a second pressing. Silks, likewise, as a rule are an added burden to the ironing basket, for they must be ironed while they are still damp and usually with more care than is necessary for other materials.

Pajamas worn for play, which have been favored by some mothers the past few years, are anything but a laundry saver. The full trousers are dirt catchers, the garment looks consistently untidy after the first hour it is worn, and a dress is really much less trouble to iron.

Some of the schemes which the housewife has used in planning the children's wardrobe can be used with her own clothes to eliminate drudgery with the iron during the summer months. The cottons which do not necessitate ironing will serve very satisfactorily for her house dresses and some of the more attractive weaves will make satisfactory street and afternoon dresses.

Keeping the ironing in mind when choosing a dress is always a valuable aid to the woman who is burdened with household duties. Pleated frills, rows of fine ruffles, many plaits, and complicated trimming of any kind never hasten the ironing.

Savings in the ironing can be made effectively with the household linens. Sheets, and even pillow cases if they are to be covered by the spread, may be brought in, fresh from tossing in the sun, and placed immediately on the beds or folded away in the linen cupboard. Linen face towels may be replaced by bath towels which also may be folded directly after being taken from the line. Dishtowels will

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

LEISURELY Sunday Dinner is an American tradition. Every one in the family looks forward to something special for dinner on Sunday. (Just as they expect beans on Saturday night.)

This week it will be easy for the family shopper to get a variety of foods at low cost. Abundant fresh vegetables in the market include home-grown asparagus and lettuce. Tomatoes are surprisingly plentiful considering the season. Strawberries are coming to market from several states. Oranges are very good value, coming from both California and Florida.

Beef is particularly good and the markets are well supplied with pork, lamb, veal and poultry. One of these three Sunday Dinner menus, planned by the Quaker Maid Kitchen should fit most any pocket-book.

Low Cost Dinner

Lamb Stew with Spring Vegetables
Boiled Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Scalloped Peaches and Raisins
Tea or Coffee

Medium Cost Dinner

Baked Ham
Cream New Cabbage
Carrots with Lemon Butter
Mixed Pickles
Raisins
Bread and Butter
Rhubarb Pie with Cheese
Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner

Cream of Asparagus Soup
Celery
Hot Roast of Beef
Stuffed Bermuda Onions
New Green Peas
Mashed Potatoes
Tomato Salad
Butter
Fresh Strawberry Whip
Tea or Coffee

not be less adaptable for dishwashing if they are not ironed.

Savings in table linens may be made by using luncheon cloths or sets in place of the larger table cloths. An oilcloth in the new linen finish may be used on the breakfast and luncheon table for a further saving. Crinkle cloth luncheon sets may also be obtained. They require a minimum of ironing. Crinkle bedspreads will prove another saver. Lace dresser scarves, table-runners, lunch cloths, and bed spreads need not be ironed if they are spread carefully to dry after they have been washed. However, they are not inexpensive.

Summer is a season so long in coming, so quick to leave, too filled with sunshine and opportunities for relaxation and pleasure to be squandered in unnecessary hours over the ironing board. The housewife who values her time, enjoys her leisure hours, will cut her summer ironing to a minimum.

CANDY RECIPES

Divinity Candy

Whites 2 eggs beaten stiff
2/3 cup white syrup
2/3 cup water
2 2/3 cups water

Put sugar-water and syrup on stove—and when mixture begins to form bubbles—pour one-third over beaten egg whites—put remainder back on fire and let boil again—then pour another third over beaten egg whites—put remainder on stove and let boil until it forms a hard ball when dropped in water—and pour remainder over egg whites—color one-half with fruit coloring—drop by spoon on platter and place nut meats in center.

Short Cut Fudge

3 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 can condensed milk
1/4 teaspoon butter
1 tablespoon vanilla
2 cups confectioners' sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup chopped dates
Melt chocolate in double boiler; add milk and cook five minutes, stirring occasionally until mixture thickens; remove from fire; add butter and vanilla; work in sugar; fold in nuts and dates; pour into shallow buttered pan and cut in squares.

Date Cake

1 cup sugar
1 large teaspoon butter
Cream butter and sugar together; sift together three times.
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 pound dates cut fine
1 cup sour milk
Kernels from 20 black walnuts.
Beat all one minute; bake in moderate oven about 40 minutes.

Mock Cheese Pie

Yolks of eggs
Juice of 1/2 lemons.
1 can of standard condensed milk.
Mix and add stiffly beaten whites of eggs.

Roll out 12 large graham crackers and mix with one large tablespoon of melted butter. Line the bottom of a pie plate with more than half of the crumbs. Pour the mixture on top of these crumbs and use the remainder of the cracker crumbs to sprinkle on top. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes.

A new toothbrush should be soaked from ten to twelve hours in cold water before it is used. This will make the bristles less apt to fall out.

To remove gelatin from a mold

Turn the mold upside down on a plate, and wrap it with cloth wrung out of hot water.

Tarnished silver may be cleaned by rubbing with raw potato dipped in baking soda.

When cutting quilt blocks make a pattern out of a good ink blotter. When placed on the material it will stick to the goods and not slide around as paper does.

An easy way to clean silver is to put it into an aluminum pan with sour milk and let it stand for a few hours. Afterwards rinse in hot water and rub with flannel.

In removing spots from clothing with gasoline a ring often forms where the spot has been. A little salt sprinkled in the gasoline will prevent this.

A leak in the gas pipe can be stopped temporarily with yellow laundry soap. White lead and boiled linseed oil mixed to a putty will mend it permanently.

A solution of bicarbonate of soda makes a good white ink.

To anchor small boxes in dresser drawers so that they will be stationary, place thumb tacks through the bottom of the box.

It is wise to grate the sharp cheese and keep a tightly covered jar of it in the refrigerator. So many dishes are improved by just a little cheese and in this way it is always there when needed.

A housewife who arranges to cook rice on the day she is washing should be careful not to throw away the water in which the rice has been boiled. This is a splendid stiffening for light muslin articles and handkerchiefs.

It is a very poor habit to wrap the ice in the refrigerator with newspapers to make it last. Granted the ice will last, but it prevents the circulation of the air currents in the refrigerator and prevents good refrigeration. The idea of having ice is to keep food fresh and this habit takes away from the purpose.

The paper shades that are such excellent replicas of parchment are so attractive these days that it is a foolish woman who keeps out fine silk and georgette shades on her lamps during the summer months. They are inexpensive and the summer dirt and dust cannot hurt them in the least. Then, when autumn comes we get out our silk shades and feel we have entirely returned.

Cinnamon Toast Is Tea-Time Variation

By Jane Rogers

WHEN a friend or two drops in unannounced and informally at tea time, do not be alarmed if the cookie jar is empty and the cake box vacant. Cinnamon toast is one of the most delicious accompaniments to the hospitable afternoon cup of tea and the materials for it are always in the kitchen.

Sugar, too, is a highly efficient quick energy food and the sweet browned coating will supply fresh vigor for the rest of the day's work.

If the children are at home, cinnamon toast with a glass of milk will make a wholesome and nourishing afternoon snack, and they'll love it.

This is the way I have always made it:

Cinnamon Toast

Cut and toast slices of bread. Spread them with butter and sprinkle generously with a mixture of cinnamon and sugar—two tablespoons of cinnamon to the cup of sugar. Place the slices in the oven close to the flame. When the sugar has melted and bubbles slightly, remove the toast from the oven and cut off the crusts.

Good Small Fruits

Growing of small fruits has proven to be profitable on many farms. Selection of good varieties is essential for success. Herewith is a list of small fruit recommended by the University of Illinois, with the varieties arranged in order of their ripening seasons:

Strawberries—Blackmore (for long hauls, canning and preserving), Premier, Dunlap or Burrill, Aroma, Candy. Everbearers: Mastodon and Rockhill.

Raspberries—Red: Chief and Lakeland; black: Logan, Cumberland and Quillen; purple: Royal, Columbian and Potomac.

Blackberries—Eldorado and Alfred. Currants — Wilder and Red Lake (promising). Gooseberries—Poorman and Chautauque.

Grapes—Portland (white) Fredonia (blue), Worden (blue), Caco (red), Concord (blue), Golden Muscat (yellow, promising), Agawam (red), Urbana (red), and Sheridan (blue). The last four varieties may be kept in cool places or cold storage for at least three months if they are allowed to ripen on the vines and are carefully stored.

Fairyland Flares in Light Chicago World's Fair Fantasy

MAGIC city of dazzling light, with fantastically-shaped buildings silhouetted against the night sky by beams from myriad sources—searchlights, scintillators, floodlights, sparkling colored fountains, glowing neon tubes, with brilliant fans and plumes of light overhead.

This is the fairyland that will blaze like a jewel with a million facets every night at Chicago's 1933 World's Fair—A Century of Progress, which opens on May 27.

Just as the architecture of the Exposition has transcended all previous attempts in the creation of new and startling effects, the night illumination will surpass anything ever before attempted. Foremost electrical engineers and illuminating experts of the nation have combined to produce the most spectacular of all night pageants of color and light.

The Fair will dramatically demonstrate to the millions of visitors that illumination in the past century has made startling advancement. Well into the century being celebrated, oil and gas were the sources of light on which night-time activity depended. Expositions in the early days closed their gates at sundown.

The first attempt to provide night entertainment for Fair visitors was at Philadelphia in 1876, and then the official closing was at dusk. The merchants of the city banded together, however, and made an effort to carry the carnival spirit into the night by installing thousands of gas jets and by sponsoring fireworks displays.

Use 15,000 Lamps

Two great electrical manufacturers, General Electric and Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing, have pooled their forces under the direction of Walter D'Arcy Ryan, for years director of G.E.'s illuminating engineering laboratory, to produce lighting effects heretofore unseen.

Lighting plans for A Century of Progress call for the use of more than 15,000 incandescent lamps, ranging in size from 10 to 3,000 watts, for exterior illumination alone. It is possible only to guess the number that will be used within the great exposition buildings and by concessions. A single battery of twenty-four arc searchlights will have a total light output of 1,500,000 candlepower for one spectacular effect. Thousands of feet of neon and mercury vapor tubes will add their soft glow to building exteriors.

It is estimated that 3,100 kilowatts of electrical energy will be required for the outdoor lighting effects.

Three electric fountains are being installed in the lagoon, just off the east shore and north of the Twenty-third Street bridge. With 507 water jets, sprays and nozzles in each, it will take 3,000 gallons of water per minute to produce the eight distinct water displays of which each fountain is capable. A 75-second period is required for each water effect, and a complete cycle that includes the many combinations will take ten minutes. At the climax of the demonstration cycle, water will be spouted eighty feet in the air. In the center fountain, harmonious gradations of colored light, including soft pastel shades, will be provided by seventy special flood-lighting projectors equipped with red, green, blue and amber lenses. Each of the two outer fountains will employ thirty-six floodlights with clear lenses.

Scintillator Display

The scintillator will be located on the shore of Lake Michigan south of the Travel and Transport Building. With a railroad track located nearby, two gigantic locomotives can be run in to generate steam and shoot clouds of it high in the air. The brilliant colored lights, operated by a squad of specially trained men, will be played on the steam and on clouds of smoke exploded high in the air by smoke bombs.

Brilliantly colored fans and plumes of light will be thrown hundreds of feet into the sky, and a fiery battle of serpents will be symbolized in the nightly displays. In their initial position, the searchlights will form an intensely bright aureole over the entire area.

Elaborate mushroom-like reflectors which will light the paths of A Century of Progress.

JUNIORS, SENIORS HOLD ANNUAL DINNER DANCE

Grant High School Open House for Public Last Friday

The Third Annual Junior-Senior Dinner Dance was held at the Fox Lake Country Club on Wednesday evening of this week. The elaborate four course dinner was served shortly after 6:30 o'clock.

Following the dinner a short program of speeches, the theme of which was the River of Life, was given. William Klein, who was master of ceremony, introduced the following speakers: Clifford Hansen, who gave to the guests a word of greeting; Helen Elter, who gave the response; Harold Junl, whose subject was "The Current"; Helen Stratton whose subject was "Tributaries"; Mr. Christ, who talked on the subject "Waves"; Earle Burdock whose subject was "Drift"; and Mr. William Nagle, whose topic was "The Islands."

The banquet tables were attractively decorated in blue and white, with elaborate floral decorations of sweet peas and roses.

Music for dancing was furnished by Gaston's Tokalons of Antioch.

The High School held open house for the public on Friday evening, May 12. The program for the evening consisted of two shifts of regular classes of twenty minutes each, and a special program in the high school auditorium. The entertainment, participated in by the gymnasium classes, the music organizations, the commercial department, and the clothing classes, illustrated the type of work done in some of the classes. The speaker of the evening was Mr. O. Nelson, Alderman of Chicago, who spoke on the present status of education.

Alzada Meyers entertained a group of students and friends at her home, Saturday evening, May 13. Those present were Helen Stratton, Dorothy Driver, Geraldine Blester, Frances Pike, Kathryn Dankleman, Lorraine Perkins, Jean Stratton, Helen Elter, Cecelia Kanthack, Vivian Whitling, Alzada Meyers, John Watson, Robert Spike, Ronald Paddock, Kenneth Jorgensen, Sven Liljekvist, Harold Arado, Gerald Klaus, Tom Graham, Earle Burdock, Robert Graham, Thomas Edson, and Bernard Britz.

The evening was spent in dancing and games. Late in the evening a delightful luncheon was served.

On Wednesday evening of last week a group of junior and senior students gathered in the high school auditorium for a period of dancing. The dance was especially planned for those who were to attend the Junior-Senior Dinner Dance, which was held the following week.

Grant's tracksters met some very keen competition when they participated in the district track and field meet at Elgin, on May 13. The boys who represented the local high school were Bernard Clemensen, Kenneth Jorgensen, Gerald Klaus, Sven Liljekvist, and Earle Burdock.

On Wednesday, May 10, a group of students and parents gave an ex-

The program consisted of tumbling acts, selections by the glee clubs, a selection by the high school band, a vocal duet by Mrs. Valenta and Elizabeth, and a number of songs in the Scotch dialect by Mr. Kay.

Practically the entire local student body was present for the occasion.

Climax of School Music Year Reached in Concert And Conference Festival

Appearing locally last Friday night in a concert, and again Monday in the High School Festival, Antioch high school musicians reached the climax of the year, for which intensive practice has been held the past months.

Five music groups participated in both musical events, with the jazz orchestra playing for dancing on both occasions.

The Antioch high school orchestra, band, chorus, girls' glee club, boys' glee club, took part in the singing and playing at Bensenville in which 600 students from ten schools participated. Hans von Holwede of Antioch was the accompanist for all numbers.

To Ed Maly of Antioch High School fell the honor of concert master. He was awarded the position in competition with musicians in the ten schools of the conference. L. O. Bright of Antioch high school, was chairman of the festival.

Music for dancing was played by the jazz orchestra in the afternoon before the concert. Music by the orchestra was played also Friday night following the concert when a dance was held.

SAVING LABOR IN CALF FEEDING

The Old Way The New Way

SAVING LABOR IN CALF FEEDING

Dairymen can save a great deal of labor and eliminate a messy, disagreeable chore by using up-to-the-minute methods of calf feeding, states a special circular just released by the Research Staff of Purina Mills Experimental Farm. Besides saving time and trouble, better calves can be raised and at less cost than by the methods formerly considered good.

Essentially, the new feeding plan consists of calf meal which has been pressed into cubes or checkers and fed with grain, hay, and water, but no milk after the fourth week. All that is required is a few minutes a day once a day to put the calf checker into the troughs and mix the new feed with what is left in the feeder. The calves feed themselves at will. The plan is almost as easy as letting them run with their dams.

By this means, the heating of water announced that after an all afternoon conference the price boost was decided upon to correspond with that put into effect earlier in the week in Chicago.

The raise in price was not preceded by any active strike demonstrations in this county. A meeting of the Pure Milk Association called by dissatisfied members last Friday at Woodstock, took away from rather than adding to the impetus of the movement in this section. Failure of Walter M. Singler, president of the Wisconsin co-operative milk pool, who addressed the meeting, to inform those present that the proposed national farm holiday strike had been called off, was criticized.

Riots in Wisconsin
Crystal Lake farmers withheld their milk for an hour Saturday morning while Ernie Allen from Hampshire addressed the crowd and attempted to win the listeners to the strike.

In Wisconsin, milk strikers have continued rioting since last Saturday, withholding their milk and in many localities offering resistance to police authorities.

About 2,500 national guards were called ready for duty last night in what state authorities termed a "fish fight" against milk strike violence which had begun to assume the proportions of organized labor.

The raise in the Chicago price was made last week after an eighteen hour continuous conference in which the farmers asked for $1.85 and the dealers offered $1.60. The decision was made by Clyde L. King, arbitrator, after hearing all the evidence. The understanding was that all of the price increase should go to the farmer.

Romance Everywhere
One constantly hears that "the romance of discovery is dead." But nothing could be further from the truth. Only the other day a schoolgirl recognized a stone lying under a hedge near Maldstone as a fine Stone age ax. Astronomers constantly discover new worlds, while untapped realms of spiritual experience wait for all to explore. —London Mail

Hen Smoked Cigarette
A woman threw away a good sized butt of a lighted cigarette. A brown leghorn hen instantly snatched at it, and fortunately got the unlighted end in her beak. "I lodged there and at every attempt she would make to swallow it, it would smoke. She took puff after puff until the entire cigarette was smoked." —Farm Journal.

First "Neckties"
Neckties, formerly known as "cravats," were first extensively worn in Europe during the French revolution. The custom was borrowed from the Croats, or Cravats, as they were called, in the Seventeenth century.

the same conditions existing when a serious fire is in progress.

Following the demonstration runs, a tug of war between departments and a baseball game between the Junior teams of the American Legion post and the Lakes Region Post of Fox Lake will be held.

A closed meeting for firemen and their guests will be held in the evening at the Crystal Theater. Addresses will be made that evening by Sherman V. Coultas, state fire marshal, Pete Stenkelner, Milwaukee chief and president of Great Lakes Chiefs' Association, Ed Donovan, chief special agent of the national board of underwriters, Chicago, and Tom Blake, chief of Rockford Fire Department.

Bartlett to Give Welcome
The address of welcome will be made by George Bartlett, president of the village board of Antioch. Lewis Van Patten, president of the local fire association, will open the meeting, turning the gavel over to Huber, president of the county association. In addition to the speakers, a number of state fire officials will be introduced during the evening. Entertainment will be furnished by the Libertyville-Mundelein 32 piece firemen's band, and fire pictures will be shown.

State police, the American Legion,

State, county and village officials, fire apparatus, the Allendale band, firemen, Antioch's school band, Havelka's Drum Corps, and floats will appear in the parade which will start at the high school grounds, proceeding north on Depot street, returning to the south lot of the Ford Garage.

A dinner will be given at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon for visiting fire chiefs and their friends at the Hotel Waldo.

Fire departments which will be represented at the meeting are Barrington, Fox Lake-Ingleside, Grayslake, Gurnee, Highland, Long Grove, Lake Villa, Lake Bluff, Libertyville, Mundelein, Round Lake, and Wauconda. Officers of the county association besides President Huber are Edward Hoskin, Highland Park, vice president; John L. Horan, Antioch, secretary; Edward Schneider, Libertyville, treasurer. Members of the advisory board are Frank Huber, Edward Hoskin, Edward Schneider, John Horan, Noel White, Fox Lake, Ray Wells, Mundelein, and Glen Craft, Grayslake.
